Otto:

Thank you for your interest in SAP Business One - The American Express Edition.

American Express, SAP and IBM are leading, global brands sharing the same company values: trust, value and service. Three trusted names are bringing a new and unique technology solution for small and midsize businesses (SMB) that is comprehensive, easy to use and maintain, and best of all, it's affordable. You will receive one totally integrated solution and will only have one number to call for support.

Many companies can afford to buy components of ERP systems (i.e. core financials, EDI, warehouse, sales force automation, document management, etc.), but they can't afford to integrate them. We've created one seamlessly integrated solution with all the functionality necessary to run a small to midsize business. Also, it is built and tested on IBM eServer xSeries providing you with an affordable and technically advanced Intel based server with numerous mainframe-inspired technologies.

Please see the attached white papers for more information. I will be giving you a call in a few days to answer any questions you may have.

Financing Program

American Express Business Finance makes financing fast, simple and extremely convenient. Let us show you just how simple financing your SAP® Business One solution can be.

All the advantages of leasing with the level of service you'd expect from American Express. Leasing can play an essential role in virtually every successful business strategy.

Improve cash flow by spreading payments. Because one might not want to use cash for the acquisition of a new system, many businesses use leasing to improve cash flow. Since monthly lease payments usually remain fixed for the entire term of a lease you can continue to accurately budget into the future.

Greater flexibility. Leasing traditionally gives businesses more flexibility than other financing options. You can choose the length of the lease, the amount of advance payments you're prepared to make, and get the benefits of other options such as provisions for technology upgrades.

Lower overall cost of ownership. Many other financing programs require a sizable down payment. Leases, on the other hand, generally only require that the first and last payments be paid at the start of the lease.

Eliminate down payment hassles. Leasing programs and procedures are specially designed to take the red tape out of financing – whenever possible avoiding typical “bank requirements.” Some banks may require compensating balances or other restrictive policies such as sizable down payments, client list reviews, cash flow projections and the like.

Tax benefits. Many businesses find that leasing has advantages over buying. Consult your tax advisor for details.

New Solutions for Small and Midsize Businesses

You're a small or midsize business owner/manager. You know that data and the flow of information are critical to your operation. Your current management information solution provides only part of the picture, and to stay competitive this simply is not good enough.

Your business relies upon a just-in-time management program where immediate knowledge of product availability is essential. Yet, you survive on a "hodge-podge" of multiple systems, often cobbled together. When something goes wrong, whom do you call?

Your sales force is going in one direction and your manufacturing and distribution processes in another. The organization's success is constrained by the inability of your business systems to handle real-time requirements. You know the problem, yet the cost of a new solution is thought to be prohibitive.

If any of these three scenarios sound somewhat familiar, then our new program will certainly be welcomed news.
